Mission

A to Z
Fenny Wang and Karishma Antia
A stop-motion film that delves into the internal feelings of living with an eating disorder.

Chained
Dustin Lowman
A soldier returns from Fallujah, Iraq, but now the battle wages inside him.

When the Fat Girl Gets Skinny
Abby Thompson
Living with an eating disorder can be misunderstood even by the people who love you the most.

Beyond Words
Sharon Nyarko
Platitudes meant to help don't get to the core of living with depression.

O.L.I.V.E.

Film COLLECTION

CORE
Ashlen Harkness
The art of dance allows us entry into one person's internal struggle with anxiety and panic.

FINE
Saida Saetgareeva
A hidden universe exists between words spoken among friends.

Limitless
Rory McLeod
One girl is gifted the opportunity to see past her social anxiety for the first time.

Each month, filmmakers from around the world submit five-minute films on topics related to mental health. The winning filmmaker receives $1,000 and has their film added to the OLIVE Film Collection and featured in Movies for Mental Health workshops throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Mental Health Does Not Define Me!
Robert Morelia
When anxiety and depression begin to overwhelm Olivia's life, she finds talk therapy to be a powerful tool for recovery.

Mia's Story
Vicki Kisner
Mia has not been herself and is pushing away the people she loves. Fortunately, her friend has seen this before and knows how to respond.

Purpose
Victor Okoye
When depression and apathy begin to take over, one man finds his voice and his joy through photography.

The Gift
Steve Bastoni
A heartbroken New Yorker changes a man's outlook and life forever.

The Letter
Brian A. Ross
A heartbroken New Yorker starts writing a letter that takes him on an unexpected journey.

Vision

AWI is committed to a future where artists are revered as cultural icons of courage and change, enabling young people to communicate freely and fearlessly about their mental health.

TO FULFILL THIS VISION, ART WITH IMPACT WILL:

Provide unique and safe spaces to learn, cultivate empathy, and reduce stigma in all regions of North America, connecting individuals to comprehensive mental health resources

Continue to expand and make available the world's most diverse and compelling collection of short films on mental health, supporting a network of filmmakers, artists and young people in an interactive online community

Maximize collaboration between the arts and social movements by engaging professionals and academic institutions through sustainable partnerships and transparency of methods and outcomes
